

CARRICKMACROSS BAPTIST CHURCH

We are a diverse church in the Republic of Ireland, close to the border with Northern Ireland, where gospel witness has been scarce. Locals are wary of "British Protestants" and disillusioned with Catholicism due to scandals. We focus on community engagement, drawing people from various backgrounds. Despite challenges, we're excited about God's work.

ABOUT

- Name:
Colin & Tanya Creighton
- Location:
Carrickmacross
Co Monaghan,
Republic of Ireland
- Launch Date of Church:
December 2023

NEEDS

- Space: Our church building is full. We have the foundations for an auditorium and are eager to proceed.
- Workers: Nearby towns lack gospel work. We aim to train workers to serve part-time in the community, study with Crosslands Seminary, and gain church experience.
- Finances: Both needs require financial support.

OPPORTUNITIES

I promote Biblical Counselling in Ireland and am training as a psychotherapist. Many locals struggling with crises approach the church for help.

We hold outreach events on emotional resilience and Scripture, and people seek our assistance for real-life struggles. I aim to establish a ministry for this in the town.

Tim McFarland, a part-time church outreach worker and coffee shop employee, has become a local community figure, helping us connect with the area.
